When you plant lettuce, if it does not grow well, you don't blame the lettuce. You look into the reasons it is not doing well. It may need fertilizer, or more water, or less sun. You never blame the lettuce. Yet if we have problems with our friends or our family, we blame the other person. But if we know how to take care of them, they will grow well, like lettuce. Blaming has no positive effect at all, nor does trying to persuade using reason and arguments. That is my experience. No blame, no reasoning, no argument, just understanding. If you understand, and you show that you understand, you can love, and the situation will change.

Thich Nhat Hahn

Obsessing on evil is boring. Rousing fear is a hackneyed shtick. Wallowing in despair is a bad habit. Indulging in cynicism is akin to committing a copycat crime.

Whenever I despair, I remember that the way of truth and love has always won. There may be tyrants and murderers, and for a time, they may seem invincible, but in the end, they always fail. Think of it: always.

At this time in history we are to take nothing personally, least of all ourselves! For the moment we do, our spiritual growth and journey comes to an end. The time of the Lone Wolf is over!

Gather yourselves! Banish the word "struggle" from your attitude and vocabulary. All that we do now must be done in a sacred manner and in celebration.

We are all about to go on a journey.
We are the ones we have been waiting for.

AFTER DOOMSDAY: CHOP WOOD, CARRY WATER

When I was a boy and I would see scary things in the news, my mother would say to me, "Look for the helpers. You will always find people who are helping." To this day, especially in times of disaster, I remember my mother's words and I am always comforted by realizing that there are still so many helpers. so many caring people in this world.

That perches in the soul
And sings the tune without the

And never stops at all.
